“Finding Coherency in an Incoherent World”

Thursday March 16th 7:30pm – 8:30pm
eastern daylight time

We are in a time of great change and instability throughout the world - a deep sense of unrest. This external distress creates internal distress; a physical and emotional imbalance in our bodies.

In this webinar, led by Laurie Thorp, will explore how to access the cellular coherency that illuminates every cell of the human body. This internal, biophotonic light forms a matrix that can bring us into way of being; an internal place where we can rest and restore during these challenging times. We have the opportunity to be nourished by the resonant coherency that is our inner GPS system.

Laurie Thorp of Krysantha Healing, is a teacher, healer, and artist, devoted to the evolution of the human spirit. She is a former senior faculty member of the Barbara Brennan School of Healing (a professional four-year program in Energy Healing), where she taught for twenty years.
